

THE DAILY JOURNAL

THURSDAY, JANUARY 31, 1901. Telephone Calls (Old and New)... TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION...

House with the Senate amendments the member from Wyoming will move an amendment appropriating $100,000 for the construction of reservoirs at the head waters of the Missouri river for irrigation purposes and will filibuster to prevent the passage of the bill if this rider is not accepted.

Those Democratic politicians who are reported as saying that the State institutions are not operated upon a nonpartisan basis fall to furnish specifications to sustain their accusations.

FROM HITHER AND YON. A Horseless Episode. Editor—Were there any novel features connected with that automobile collision?

Her Inheritance. "Your daughter's voice," said the professor, after the first lesson, "really has a timber."

What She Wanted. "Have you Moore's poems?" inquired the sweet young thing.

Terrifying Thought. "Dearest," wrote the charming young widow, after the manner of an English woman preparing her love letters for publication, "why should the discovery of the fact that my first husband was a drunkard cause your love for me to grow cold?"

Colonial. "I wonder if this is a colonial novel?" faltered Mordant Motravars, feeling that he had a right, as chief personage in the book, to know.

Letter from Secretary Long Auent the Proposed Investigation by a House Committee.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—Secretary Long has addressed the following letter to the House naval committee relative to the pending resolution touching hazing at Annapolis:

"Sir—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of a resolution introduced by Mr. Sherman relative to proposed investigation of the practice of hazing at the Naval Academy, and asking the views of the department thereon.

A similar bill was passed in 1881, authorizing President Monroe to govern Florida. President McKinley can be safely entrusted with as large discretionary power as any of his predecessors.

The decision of Judge Carter declaring invalid the ordinance of the Taggart Council of 1896, requiring the railroads to elevate their tracks, is not cause for general surprise.

Secretary Hays's praise of the work of our consuls in promoting American trade is well deserved. In the good old Democratic times the position of a consul was regarded as a sinecure and the idea of rendering any practical service to the country was never dreamed of.

Washington gossip says that when the House with the Senate amendments the member from Wyoming will move an amendment appropriating $100,000 for the construction of reservoirs at the head waters of the Missouri river for irrigation purposes and will filibuster to prevent the passage of the bill if this rider is not accepted.

ber remarked on Monday that the people of Indianapolis had got themselves into this fix. This is not the case. Thomas Taggart can make any man he selects a candidate despite the efforts of a majority of his party.

Mr. Wataae, a distinguished diplomat and merchant from Japan, after visiting several American cities is now in St. Louis. To a reporter of a city paper he said: "Your mercantile and manufacturing institutions are first class, but your streets are very dirty, and I understand that your municipal government is exceedingly corrupt, so much so that while I have studied the government of other cities I have not spent much time that way in your city."

Chicago Times-Herald. "Your daughter's voice," said the professor, after the first lesson, "really has a timber."

Chicago Tribune. "Dearest," wrote the charming young widow, after the manner of an English woman preparing her love letters for publication, "why should the discovery of the fact that my first husband was a drunkard cause your love for me to grow cold?"

DETROIT JOURNAL. "I wonder if this is a colonial novel?" faltered Mordant Motravars, feeling that he had a right, as chief personage in the book, to know.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—Secretary Long has addressed the following letter to the House naval committee relative to the pending resolution touching hazing at Annapolis:

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—Secretary Long has addressed the following letter to the House naval committee relative to the pending resolution touching hazing at Annapolis:

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—Secretary Long has addressed the following letter to the House naval committee relative to the pending resolution touching hazing at Annapolis:

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—Secretary Long has addressed the following letter to the House naval committee relative to the pending resolution touching hazing at Annapolis:

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—Secretary Long has addressed the following letter to the House naval committee relative to the pending resolution touching hazing at Annapolis:

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—Secretary Long has addressed the following letter to the House naval committee relative to the pending resolution touching hazing at Annapolis:

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—Secretary Long has addressed the following letter to the House naval committee relative to the pending resolution touching hazing at Annapolis:

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—Secretary Long has addressed the following letter to the House naval committee relative to the pending resolution touching hazing at Annapolis:

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—Secretary Long has addressed the following letter to the House naval committee relative to the pending resolution touching hazing at Annapolis:

General Assembly may employ needed help by and with the consent of its presiding officer. On motion of Senator Ball the constitutional rule was suspended and the bill amended passed the Senate without opposition.

THE HOUSE KILLS THE MEASURE RELATING TO THE BUYING AND SELLING OF VOTES. The two houses of the Indiana Legislature held busy sessions yesterday. Several bills were passed by both houses.

THE SENATE'S SESSIONS. Senator Stillwell's New Resolution—Request for Investigations. The Senate held two very quiet sessions yesterday, much to the disappointment of the unusually large crowd of spectators that had assembled with the expectation of hearing a heated debate over the resolution with reference to the extradition of the Kentucky exiles, which Senator Stillwell was expected to introduce some time during the day.

THE PASSAGE GAS BILL. Mr. Passag's bill regulating natural gas companies and providing a remedy for consumers who pay in advance, etc., passed to engrossment after the emergency clause had been stricken out, which was done on motion of Mr. Whitcomb. House bill No. 16, Mr. Kirkman's measure regulating the taking of fish and game, was handed down for second reading. It was decided to have a special order of business for Feb. 5 at 10 o'clock a. m.

THE RESOLUTION KILLED. Mr. Murphy introduced a resolution providing for an investigation of the charges against Superintendent Keeley, of the Woman's Prison and Industrial School for Girls. The resolution was plainly a Democratic measure, and Mr. Erditz's motion to table it prevailed by a vote of 47 yeas and 39 nays.

HOUSE COMMITTEES. On Corporation and Township Business. At the meeting of the House committee on corporations yesterday evening the committee heard Lew Wallace, Jr., who spoke in behalf of Representative McCarty's anti-trust bill.

MR. ROBERTS'S BILL. Another report of the election committee was on the bill of Mr. Roberts, of Dearborn county, providing for the punishment of the vote-buyer only. There were two reports, the minority being in favor of the passage of the bill. On motion of Mr. Bonham the minority report was tabled.

At the morning session, which was opened by an invocation by the Rev. R. S. Osborn, pastor of the Mayflower Church, of this city, little was done beyond the discussion of a number of bills which were taken up on third reading. Senator Brooks, chairman of the judiciary committee, obtained permission to make a report on the proposed law.

At the meeting of the House committee on corporations yesterday evening the committee heard Lew Wallace, Jr., who spoke in behalf of Representative McCarty's anti-trust bill.

At the meeting of the House committee on corporations yesterday evening the committee heard Lew Wallace, Jr., who spoke in behalf of Representative McCarty's anti-trust bill.

Dr. Hurty, secretary of the State Board of Health, has been before the Senate committee on health the last few days urging that body to recommend the building of a laboratory for the analysis of food for the State Board. To prove to the committee the necessity for such an appropriation Dr. Hurty had a number of samples of adulterated food, which is sold every day all over the State and the sale of which it is impossible to prevent as long as the State Board is not provided with an adulterated food laboratory.

DR. HURTY'S CLAIMS. Tells Senate Committee Why a Laboratory Should Be Established. Dr. Hurty, secretary of the State Board of Health, has been before the Senate committee on health the last few days urging that body to recommend the building of a laboratory for the analysis of food for the State Board.

STATE OFFICERS PRESENT. Meeting of Ways and Means and Senate Finance Committees. The ways and means committee of the House and the Senate finance committee held a joint session last night at the Statehouse, at which a number of the State officers were present, and presented some specific reasons for certain appropriations which they maintained were absolutely necessary.

HOUSE PROCEEDINGS. Resolution for an Investigation Tabled—The Vote-Buying Measure. At the opening of the session in the House yesterday Rev. Frank O. Ballard, pastor of Memorial Presbyterian Church, offered prayer. Bills on second reading were taken up and Mr. Gerber's bill providing for voting machines was made a special order of business for next Monday at 2 p. m.

At the meeting of the House committee on corporations yesterday evening the committee heard Lew Wallace, Jr., who spoke in behalf of Representative McCarty's anti-trust bill.

At the meeting of the House committee on corporations yesterday evening the committee heard Lew Wallace, Jr., who spoke in behalf of Representative McCarty's anti-trust bill.

At the meeting of the House committee on corporations yesterday evening the committee heard Lew Wallace, Jr., who spoke in behalf of Representative McCarty's anti-trust bill.

At the meeting of the House committee on corporations yesterday evening the committee heard Lew Wallace, Jr., who spoke in behalf of Representative McCarty's anti-trust bill.

At the meeting of the House committee on corporations yesterday evening the committee heard Lew Wallace, Jr., who spoke in behalf of Representative McCarty's anti-trust bill.

At the meeting of the House committee on corporations yesterday evening the committee heard Lew Wallace, Jr., who spoke in behalf of Representative McCarty's anti-trust bill.

that their terms of office will not expire at the same time. The purpose of this is to always have an office which is familiar with the tax laws of the State.

DR. HURTY'S CLAIMS. Tells Senate Committee Why a Laboratory Should Be Established. Dr. Hurty, secretary of the State Board of Health, has been before the Senate committee on health the last few days urging that body to recommend the building of a laboratory for the analysis of food for the State Board.

STATE OFFICERS PRESENT. Meeting of Ways and Means and Senate Finance Committees. The ways and means committee of the House and the Senate finance committee held a joint session last night at the Statehouse, at which a number of the State officers were present, and presented some specific reasons for certain appropriations which they maintained were absolutely necessary.

HOUSE PROCEEDINGS. Resolution for an Investigation Tabled—The Vote-Buying Measure. At the opening of the session in the House yesterday Rev. Frank O. Ballard, pastor of Memorial Presbyterian Church, offered prayer. Bills on second reading were taken up and Mr. Gerber's bill providing for voting machines was made a special order of business for next Monday at 2 p. m.

At the meeting of the House committee on corporations yesterday evening the committee heard Lew Wallace, Jr., who spoke in behalf of Representative McCarty's anti-trust bill.

At the meeting of the House committee on corporations yesterday evening the committee heard Lew Wallace, Jr., who spoke in behalf of Representative McCarty's anti-trust bill.

At the meeting of the House committee on corporations yesterday evening the committee heard Lew Wallace, Jr., who spoke in behalf of Representative McCarty's anti-trust bill.

At the meeting of the House committee on corporations yesterday evening the committee heard Lew Wallace, Jr., who spoke in behalf of Representative McCarty's anti-trust bill.

At the meeting of the House committee on corporations yesterday evening the committee heard Lew Wallace, Jr., who spoke in behalf of Representative McCarty's anti-trust bill.

At the meeting of the House committee on corporations yesterday evening the committee heard Lew Wallace, Jr., who spoke in behalf of Representative McCarty's anti-trust bill.

that their terms of office will not expire at the same time. The purpose of this is to always have an office which is familiar with the tax laws of the State.

DR. HURTY'S CLAIMS. Tells Senate Committee Why a Laboratory Should Be Established. Dr. Hurty, secretary of the State Board of Health, has been before the Senate committee on health the last few days urging that body to recommend the building of a laboratory for the analysis of food for the State Board.

STATE OFFICERS PRESENT. Meeting of Ways and Means and Senate Finance Committees. The ways and means committee of the House and the Senate finance committee held a joint session last night at the Statehouse, at which a number of the State officers were present, and presented some specific reasons for certain appropriations which they maintained were absolutely necessary.

HOUSE PROCEEDINGS. Resolution for an Investigation Tabled—The Vote-Buying Measure. At the opening of the session in the House yesterday Rev. Frank O. Ballard, pastor of Memorial Presbyterian Church, offered prayer. Bills on second reading were taken up and Mr. Gerber's bill providing for voting machines was made a special order of business for next Monday at 2 p. m.

At the meeting of the House committee on corporations yesterday evening the committee heard Lew Wallace, Jr., who spoke in behalf of Representative McCarty's anti-trust bill.

At the meeting of the House committee on corporations yesterday evening the committee heard Lew Wallace, Jr., who spoke in behalf of Representative McCarty's anti-trust bill.

At the meeting of the House committee on corporations yesterday evening the committee heard Lew Wallace, Jr., who spoke in behalf of Representative McCarty's anti-trust bill.

At the meeting of the House committee on corporations yesterday evening the committee heard Lew Wallace, Jr., who spoke in behalf of Representative McCarty's anti-trust bill.

At the meeting of the House committee on corporations yesterday evening the committee heard Lew Wallace, Jr., who spoke in behalf of Representative McCarty's anti-trust bill.

At the meeting of the House committee on corporations yesterday evening the committee heard Lew Wallace, Jr., who spoke in behalf of Representative McCarty's anti-trust bill.